

263,337 was the TIMES' circulation for last week.

The STAR's circulation for last week was 164,915.

VOL. 1, NO. 315.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 5, 1896—EIGHT PAGES.

ONE CENT

LOGAN CARLISLE A BOLTER

Declares He Will Not Vote the Democratic Ticket.

REASONS FOR HIS COURSE

Says Thousands of Kentuckians Will Go to Polls With Cloths on Their Faces or Vote for McKinley, Like Himself—Senator Faulkner Is Greatly Encouraged by Advice.

The chief item of political interest at the various headquarters today was the announced intention of Logan Carlisle, chief clerk of the Treasury Department, and son of the Secretary, to bolt the Chicago nominees, and in the absence of a regular sound-money Democratic ticket to vote for McKinley. This is the same course that will be pursued by his brother, W. K. Carlisle, a prominent lawyer of Chicago, now in this city.

Senator Faulkner expressed surprise when told of Mr. Carlisle's intention, but made no comment other than to ask if he had resigned his position under the Democratic administration.

In the course of an interview outlining his future action and the reasons therefor, Logan Carlisle says:

"Secretary Carlisle has not yet stated his position as to the Bryan-Sewall ticket. Several statements have appeared as if emanating from him, as to what his attitude will be, but all of them have been unauthoritative and in most cases unfounded. I will tell you what I stand for, however. I am now, and have been for years, a sound-money, low-tariff Democrat. Ten years ago I made sound-money, low-tariff speeches in Kansas, where the feeling against both was universal.

"I cannot believe that free silver would do otherwise than seriously add to the present business and commercial depression, and I do not believe the people will endorse it at the polls in November. I do not consider the Chicago convention as a Democratic convention, for it was not made up of Democrats, nor did it supply Democratic methods in the making of its nominees. I am for a sound money Democratic ticket, and the possibility that he might not eventually be able to clear himself from the charge of being a free silver man is not a consideration to me.

FREE SILVER RUINOUS.

"I do not pretend to deny that a business depression prevails, but free silver, in my opinion, will only make it worse. If a patient be stricken with diphtheria, should his physician expose him to snuff? That, it seems to me, is precisely the kind of medicine advocated by the free and unlimited advocates of silver, and with a similar result. There is too much of the 'free gold, free silver' man, and a 'tear me out of the party' spirit, to be a comforter to the people of this country.

Tennessee, speaks of, in this campaign. "I do not believe free silver will win, and I think reports as to the extent of the craze have been exaggerated. Reports have received from Kentucky indicate the election of McKinley and Hobart electors there, although the free silver men do not even rate the State as a doubtful one.

"In one Kentucky county 644 men—Democrats—who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket, are now pledging themselves to vote for the Republican sound money ticket, and I think on election day there will be thousands of Kentucky Democrats who will do so.

"I have heard much talk of Kentucky Republicans bolting their party's ticket for free silver, but I have been unable to secure identifications of such bolters. Names are being given, but the managers of the Democratic campaign assert that they will carry the State for Bryan by 40,000 plurality, but they do not tell how they will accomplish this political revolution.

SENATOR FAULKNER SANGUINE

Representative Matchett of the Eighteenth Pennsylvania district called at the Democratic headquarters and speaks very hopefully of the outlook for the Democratic ticket in his State. He says his old district, which two years ago was saved by 198 majority, will this year show from two to four thousand more votes for the Democratic representative. He believes the Democratic delegation from Pennsylvania will be largely increased, the present membership of the delegation being 11, if not better.

Senator Faulkner says that an indication of the growing free silver sentiment in the State is the fact that the Democratic ticket in 1894 was defeated by a majority of 10,000. He says the Democratic ticket in 1894 was defeated by a majority of 10,000. He says the Democratic ticket in 1894 was defeated by a majority of 10,000.

The cry of fraud in Alabama, Senator Faulkner says, made against the election of Monday will fall flat. He says the white counties that were in line, and consequently there is no ground upon which to base the claim of fraud. If the white counties had returned Populist majorities there might have been some foundation for complaint, but as the case stands there is no ground.

FROM A REPUBLICAN STANDPOINT.

Representative Brannan of the Thirteenth Pennsylvania district is in the city and said to a Times reporter that there will be no trouble about the Republican carrying the State. He has been re-nominated in the district, and expects to achieve re-election. His constituency is largely composed of miners, and he admits that there has been considerable free silver sentiment prevailing among them, but believes that action on education will result in a great extent counteract this influence. He is going to take the stump and actively participate in the campaign.

The West End McKinley Republican Club, with headquarters at No. 1131 Nineteenth street northwest, has issued a copyrighted address to the colored voters of the United States, in which attention is called to the fact that the Democratic party is leaving no stone unturned to mislead the masses through the medium of unscrupulous negroes, who, like East of old, are willing to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. The address includes the following epigrammatic sentences:

"States rights Democracy was the curse of the South, and Democracy is the curse of the Republic."

"Frederick Douglass, the great Moses of the negro, declared that the 'Republican party is the shipwreck of the sea.'"

National Forestry Commission's Work.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 5.—The national forestry commission, composed of Prof. Charles S. Sargent, of Harvard, chairman; Prof. Arnold Hague, U. S. geological survey; Prof. William H. Brewer, Yale; Gen. Henry L. Abbott, retired army engineer; Henry Pinchot, of New York; and E. H. Shuster, of Washington, D. C., clerk of the board, arrived in the city yesterday. The board has been out since July 1, having inspected the forests of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Eastern Washington. About two weeks will be spent in traversing Western Washington forests and exploring the Olympic Mountains. The commission will then proceed to California, thence to Arizona and Nevada, concluding its labors with Colorado some time in September.

Dr. M. A. Dixon, who may marry again.

FROM PRISON CELL TO GRAVE

Dr. M. A. Dixon Permitted to Attend His Sister's Funeral.

Attended by a Jail Guard He Went to the House of Mourning and Thence to the Cemetery.

A pathetic incident at the funeral of Mrs. Minnie Dixon, at No. 2003 1/2 West street northwest, at noon today, was the presence of her brother, Dr. M. A. Dixon, in the company of a jail guard. The services were simple, and Dr. M. A. Dixon, who had been in the jail for several years, attended the funeral in a simple suit.

Several months ago he made a trade for a horse with one of the jail guards, and a check on the Lincoln National Bank. The services were simple, and Dr. M. A. Dixon, who had been in the jail for several years, attended the funeral in a simple suit.

Only a few friends were present when the body was taken to the cemetery. The funeral was held at the residence of Dr. M. A. Dixon, at No. 2003 1/2 West street northwest, at noon today.

WILLING TO SERVE THE NATION.

"Silver Dollar" Bland and Others Nominated for Congress.

Bland Will Come to Congress Again.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 5.—The Democratic convention of the Eighth Congressional district yesterday afternoon nominated Richard P. Bland for Congress. The greatest enthusiasm for Bland was shown by the delegates.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 5.—S. R. Bruce, Jr., of Searcy has been nominated for Congress on the fourth ballot of the Democratic convention of the Sixth Congressional district at Mountain View, Springs, over Gen. Robert. Nell, the present incumbent.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 5.—John J. Jenkins was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Tenth district last evening.

Waterloo, Iowa, Aug. 5.—Congressman Hull was re-nominated by the Republicans for his fourth term yesterday.

Dubuque, Iowa, Aug. 5.—The Democrats of the Third district yesterday nominated George Staehle of Earlville, Delaware county, for Congress.

Presidential contest, Aug. 5.—G. P. Thompson of Trigg county was yesterday nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the First district.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 5.—The Sixteenth district Populist Congressional convention yesterday nominated J. D. Hess of Pike county for Congress.

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 5.—George L. Vance of Joliet was nominated for Congress by the Populists of the Twelfth district yesterday.

DR. TONER'S ESTATE.

His Will Names Judge Morris as Executor—The Bequests Not Known.

Hon. A. R. Spofford, librarian of Congress, yesterday received a long letter from Judge Martin F. Morris.

It stated that the will of the late Dr. J. M. Toner, who died last week, named Judge Morris as executor of the estate. No details as to the disposition of the property were given.

Judge Morris stated that he would not return to the city until September, and that he would probably not be able to attend to the estate until then.

Secretary Herbert Gone North.

Secretary Herbert reached Washington from his Alabama trip at an early hour this morning. He was met at the station by his private secretary, Miss Herbert, and the party then proceeded to the office.

Great Britain Yields a Point.

Lisbon, Aug. 5.—Newspapers here declare that Great Britain has recognized Brazil as the owner of the life of the coast of Brazil, which Great Britain recently took possession of as a landing station for telegraph cables. The seizure of the island called forth energetic protests from Brazil, which, according to some papers, have resulted in England withdrawing her pretensions to sovereignty of the island.

Excited Over Whitecap Notices.

Columbia, Mo., Aug. 5.—Ablad, a small town in the southeastern part of this county, is all aflutter over white rappers. Several citizens of the town have recently received letters threatening a whipping. As a result, several citizens, including Michael Swilum, and Sebastian Burnett, have been arrested and are now in jail.

Trial of the Massachusetts.

Massachusetts, Aug. 5.—A trial for the murder of a woman named Mary Ann Sullivan, who was killed by a man named John Sullivan, is being held in the city of Boston.

POLITICS IN HOT WEATHER

Several State Conventions Sit in Sizzling Temperature.

REPUBLICANS IN MICHIGAN

Their Platform Short and of the Regulation Kind—Wisconsin Republicans Trying to Nominate a Governor—Lafayette and Scottfield Running Neck and Neck.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 5.—Sweltering in temperature, but not in politics, the delegates were slow in gathering in for the Michigan Republican State convention this morning. The delegates were slow in gathering in for the Michigan Republican State convention this morning.

It was after 11 o'clock when the delegates, called the convention to order. After prayer had been read, the delegates elected Victor M. Gore, of Benton Harbor, the temporary chairman.

The platform to be presented to the Republican State convention, which met here today will be short. It will declare continued allegiance to the Republican party, which stands for the maintenance of the order and for the best interests of this country, the maintenance of its credit and the defense of its honor among the nations of the world.

PLANS OF THE PLATFORM.

It accepts with unqualified endorsement the platform of the national Republican convention, and declares its adherence to its principles, calls upon all loyal citizens of the Republic to unite in its support, believing that where any may have convictions in conflict therewith their good sense will prevail.

It will declare, "We zealously emphasize our proud and distinguished American citizenship, William McKinley, who best embodies these patriotic and progressive qualities, and who has been elected Vice President, Garrett A. Hobart."

The platform will endorse the administration of President McKinley, and will call for the nomination of a man who will continue the policy of the present administration.

BADGER STATE REPUBLICANS MEET.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—This is a sizzling hot day in Milwaukee. The delegates to the Wisconsin Republican State convention are taking it easy in the sizzling heat.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

There was some comfort to be found, however, in the fact that the delegates were not in the sun, but in the shade of the convention hall.

Irwin, the murdered farmer, and his wife.

TROOPS PATROL STREETS

Cleveland Like a City Under Martial Law.

Feeling Prevails That Outbreak on Account of Brown Hotel Works Lockout Is Certain.

P. Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 5.—A feeling of uneasiness prevails today throughout the region affected by the Brown Hotel lockout. The feeling is that an outbreak is certain.

Every day increases the feeling that there will be an outbreak, and anxious inquiries as to the situation are constantly being made. That anxiety was manifested in the earliest hours of this morning. Pickets stood guard at every street corner, and the police were kept busy with questions.

Grandiose rumors of trouble were eagerly seized upon, and added to the feeling of uneasiness. There was no serious trouble, however, and the situation was kept under control.

It was difficult for him to tell the truth, and he would give out monstrous, impossible stories. Many years ago this man had been a member of the police, and it is said, his father among them, think him unbalanced, but others indignantly repudiated the idea that he was mentally unbalanced.

James Phillips graduated from Emerson Institute and served in the army with his father. He had no energy, no force, and he was a failure. Then he got a clerkship in the Interstate Commerce Commission at $1,500 per year.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

YOUNG PHILLIPS' DISGRACE

Pre-natal Influences Have Made Him Irresponsible.

UNBALANCED, NOT CRIMINAL

He Resorted to Petty Schemes to Get Money, Which He Would Then Give Away—Gambled, But Never Won. An Inevitable Prevaricator—His Offense in New York.

If there is such a thing as moral irresponsibility, caused by some pre-natal influence, James Phillips, the son of Judge Samuel F. Phillips, of this city, who was arrested yesterday in New York city for passing a forged check, is the victim of it. He is a brother of Miss Gertrude Phillips, the unfortunate heroine of the Milken-Phillips housebreaking trial.

Every one who knew Phillips liked him. Handsome, amiable, well-educated, always well-dressed, a man could not help liking him, even if he thought him the greatest rascal in the world.

Not that he is a great rascal; there is nothing criminal in or about James Phillips, if those who know him are to be believed. He is a man who has been the victim of pre-natal influences, and he has been the victim of pre-natal influences.

Some people, in order to find an explanation for his acts, have said that he has run with a fast set. This does not appear to be the truth. He neither drank nor gambled to excess; he did not riot around among evil women.

He wasted money, but he wasted it in an almost inhuman manner. He was generous at heart, and would obtain a few dollars from a friend through some clumsy fraudulent device, and then give it away to the first person who touched his heart with pity.

Phillips' imagination seemed to have always pervaded and subordinated all his other qualities. Somewhere he had called imagination a great deal of lying, and Phillips, from what a Times reporter learned from his friends and family today, has a genius for lying.

THINK HIM UNBALANCED.

It was difficult for him to tell the truth, and he would give out monstrous, impossible stories. Many years ago this man had been a member of the police, and it is said, his father among them, think him unbalanced, but others indignantly repudiated the idea that he was mentally unbalanced.

James Phillips graduated from Emerson Institute and served in the army with his father. He had no energy, no force, and he was a failure. Then he got a clerkship in the Interstate Commerce Commission at $1,500 per year.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.

There was some rumor that shortly before this he became enamored of a notorious woman and was sent west to get him out of her clutches.

This was indignantly denied to the Times reporter by his friends. He was a failure at the Interstate Commerce Commission, and he was a failure in everything else.